

Scranton To Seek Presidential Nomination

Announcement Of Candidacy Expected Today

Pennsylvania Leader Disturbed by GOP Leadership Trend

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton will tell the Maryland Republican Convention here today he will seek the GOP presidential nomination at San Francisco next month, sources close to the governor reported.

Those close to Scranton described him as deeply disturbed over the leadership trend within the GOP. The sources said he would tell the Maryland organization he will continue to fight for the nomination until the issue is settled.

The announcement by Scranton would put him in direct opposition to Sen. Barry Goldwater. The Arizona Republican presently holds a commanding lead in the battle for national convention delegates.

A key factor in Scranton's decision, sources said, was Goldwater's vote on Wednesday against ending the filibuster in the Senate on civil rights legislation. Scranton long has been an outspoken advocate of civil rights.

Goldwater voted against cloture on the filibuster, saying: "I have never voted for cloture on anything." He has said he hopes to be able to vote for the bill, but it would depend upon its final form; it would have to be amended.

In announcing his candidacy, Scranton would join a field of GOP contenders that includes Goldwater, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Maine Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, and former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen.

Goldwater was not available immediately for comment. In New York a spokesman for Rockefeller said the governor will not change his position "one bit."

Michigan Gov. George Romney, an outspoken opponent of many of Goldwater's views, has said he is not seeking the nomination, but will campaign for a strong platform along lines of the 1960 platform.

He had no immediate comment on Scranton's plans.

Such a Scranton announcement would be a reversal of his long-standing position that he was not seeking the nomination, but would accept a "sincere and honest draft." Last Sunday Scranton modified his draft statement slightly to say he would be available for the nomination if a majority of the convention delegates wanted him.

The Scranton action capped a week of activity that began last Saturday when Scranton met with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in Gettysburg.

Super Centers Co. Will Build Here

Construction of a large supermarket on Alternate Rt. 14, near the Salem Drive-In theater is expected to begin within two weeks, according to Dr. Wayne S. Wolf, president of the Super Centers, Inc. of Alliance, which will operate the business.

Dr. Wolf said an agreement has been reached between his firm and Jack Vogel of Wells-ville, owner of the property. Terms of the contract call for Vogel to construct the building, which will then be leased by Super Centers.

Dr. Wolf said the Salem store will be the biggest in the chain, which also has outlets in Warren, Massillon and Wooster, as well as Alliance.

Dr. Wolf said the new Salem store, to be known as Perskey's Super Center, will be a $600,000 investment. It will feature a combined super market food store and a junior department store operation.

The building will contain 48,500 square feet of space and parking will be available for 745 automobiles. James Coco, manager of the firm's store in Warren, will manage the Salem store when it opens.

Federal Pay Increase Bill Gets House OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fatter pay checks for most federal workers were in prospect today after House passage of a pay raise bill that includes $7,500-a-year increases for members of Congress.

By the surprisingly large margin of 243 to 157 the House reversed its earlier defeat of a similar bill and cleared the way for Senate action on the $533-million package of pay boosts.

It includes $7,500-a-year raises for judges, Cabinet officers and top federal executives, and increases ranging from 2.5 per cent at the top to 1.6 per cent at the bottom for 1.7 million government workers.

The average letter carrier would get a 5.6 per cent boost of $325 a year and the average government typist and file clerk would get a $310 a year raise. The bill is expected to be one of the first called up in the Senate after it completes action on the civil rights bill, and no difficulties are foreseen in its passage.

A number of considerations prompted the House to pass the pay bill this time after defeating one, 222 to 184, last March.

The size of the proposed congressional raise was scaled down from $10,000 a year to $7,500 and it was made effective next January, instead of this year, making it easier for members to vote for it.

Of major importance in the view of the bill's backers, however, was the fact most state primary elections are over now. Last March the primaries were still to be faced and too many members felt it politically unwise to vote raises for themselves and then face the electorate.

Strong support from President Johnson also helped put the bill over this time, as did a powerful lobbying effort by the postal unions.

An amendment designed to eliminate the pain of voting for its own pay raises in the future was adopted by the House Thursday. It was offered by Rep. Morris K. Udall, D-Ariz., and would provide automatic increases for Congress whenever the top Civil Service grade gets a raise.

Romania-Soviet Rift Widening

Complete Break Not Expected

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP)—Bucharest streets with Russian names are getting new ones. The Russian language is no longer compulsory in Romanian schools. Soviet book stores and institutes are being closed or renamed.

There are hints of bitterness between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Romania's longtime Communist leader, Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej.

Since Romania signed an agreement last week to trade more with the United States, there has been increasing speculation in the West that Romania may be moving away from the Communist bloc. Cautious Western diplomats in Bucharest believe Romania won't break away from the Soviet Union and other Communist countries—or follow the Yugoslav model. But they say that disagreements are tenser than at any time since Romania became Communist in 1947.

Romania probably is the richest of all East European Communist countries in raw materials. She has Europe's largest oil production outside the Soviet Union, and gold, bauxite, extensive wood supplies, methane gas, water power, uranium ore and salt.

For years, most of these raw materials went to other Communist countries. In 1960 Gheorghiu-Dej decided on a large-scale plan of industrialization. Because Romanians could not get the first-class equipment from the Soviet bloc they started trading their products in the West, and began buying industrial plants in West Germany, Britain, France and Italy.

Romania's rapid industrialization and its increasing Western trade has not pleased Khrushchev.

Robert Carter of Summitville Gets Post

Principal Is Named At Fairfield School

Robert Carter of Summitville, guidance counselor and teacher the past three years at Southern Local High School, was named principal of Fairfield School Thursday night by the Board of Education of the Fairfield-Waterford District. He will begin his duties at the $7,000-a-year post on Aug. 1, according to executive head Joseph Driscoll.

Besides his guidance work, Carter also taught speech and journalism. Before the guidance appointment, he taught elementary school at Highlandtown for three years.

Carter began teaching at United School where he instructed seventh and eighth grades. He then taught three years at East Local Elementary School near Augusta before going to Highlandtown.

Driscoll said that Carter, besides his principal's duties, may coach junior high basketball. The past three years he has been reserve basketball coach at Southern Local.

In other action the board advanced plans for the new building program and the bond issue and levy to be placed on the November ballot, hired a new teacher and accepted the resignations of Alton Dobson, whom Carter replaces, and Miss Shirley Heck. Dobson will be principal at Springfield Local and Miss Heck, a fifth grade Fairfield teacher, will instruct there.

Chester Urbach of Columbiana, eighth grade teacher at Beaver Local Public School, was named social studies teacher in the junior high.

Measures relating to the issues up for vote in the fall were acted on. A resolution was passed requesting the State Department of Taxation for permission.

2 Badly Hurt In District Road Mishaps

A Mahoning County motorist whose car plowed into the rear of a steel truck and a Columbiana County man involved in a two-vehicle collision were seriously injured Thursday in district mishaps investigated by the Canfield and Lisbon posts of the State Highway Patrol.

Frank Kupniewski, 33, of 1217 Glenwood Ave., Youngstown, is listed in serious condition at Youngstown Southside Hospital with multiple lacerations, fractured skull and burns of the right lower leg and Riley Taylor, 41, of MC 22, East Liverpool, is poor to critical at East Liverpool City Hospital with a fractured skull.

The Youngstown man's car, approaching the steel truck too fast from behind, struck the rear of the rig at 11:50 p. m. on Route 18, about a mile east of Route 8, Canfield.

The driver of the truck, John W. Buchanan, 48, of RD 1, Wampum, Pa., was unhurt.

Taylor suffered his injuries in a collision with a truck operated by Clinton E. McDole, 44, of RD 1, Smiths Ferry, Pa., on the Y. & O. Rd. (County Rd. 424), northwest of East Liverpool.

Taylor pulled from County Rd. 926 into the path of the

112 Wounded In Dominican Republic

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Explosions rocked military ammunition dumps across the Ozama River from Santo Domingo through the night.

Officials said four persons were killed and 112 wounded. Flames set by the blasts still raged today, preventing firemen, troops and police from getting close to the dumps.

The explosions caused damage in the city. Donald Reid Cabral of the government junta said three and possibly five dumps at the army's 27th of February barracks were destroyed. He said investigators were trying to determine the cause. There was an unofficial report the blasts were started by fire in a powder magazine.

Persons in the area heard several carbine shots just before the first explosion. It was believed these were fired by sentries giving the alarm for the fire.

The government put all hospitals and private clinics in the capital on an emergency footing.

Planning Group Urged To Employ Supervisor

The Columbiana County Regional Planning Commission was urged Thursday night to obtain personnel to supervise and guide the current collection of data from throughout the county.

Nicholas Kaschak, Jefferson County planning director, commended the group for its accomplishments at the meeting at St. George's Catholic Church parish hall at Lisbon. About 40 attended.

But he said, "You need a person or persons able to devote on the spot supervision on doing what has to be done, guiding the collection of more data and structuring a planning program."

Preliminary reports from committee chairmen on the progress of the information-gathering projects were filed.

Kaschak, of Steubenville, outlined some methods and other procedures which can be used

THIS BRIDGE TO BE REPLACED — Columbiana and Mahoning County commissioners are cooperating with the Ohio Department of Highways in a project to have this old bridge over Beaver Creek, just east of Washingtonville, replaced this summer. The state is expected to advertise soon for bids for a new span which will lessen the present dip in the Alt. Rt. 14 highway at that point. Part of the present bridge is at least 50 years old. The Columbiana County line goes straight down the middle of the road at this point, the reason for both counties' participation in the project.

Erhard Arrives For LBJ Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany arrives in Washington today amid reports that the Soviet Union has signed a treaty with East Germany.

This will be the third meeting between President Johnson and Erhard since the two became the heads of their governments last fall. The East German-Soviet treaty is sure to dominate their talks.

Earlier this week, American sources were skeptical that Soviet premier Khrushchev would rock the boat in this period of East-West thaw by conducting a spectacular agreement with Walter Ulbricht, East German Communist leader and chief of state. Thursday night these sources conceded that reports from Moscow of the imminent signing of documents of "special ties" were wrong.

Later authoritative sources said Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin had told Secretary of State Dean Rusk Wednesday that the Soviet Union intends to conclude a treaty with East Germany.

In reporting this the sources made the following statement: "The conclusion or implementation of this treaty by the Soviet Union cannot in any case affect the legal obligations and responsibilities of the Soviet Union under agreements and arrangements between the three Western powers and the Soviet Union or the subject of Berlin and Germany."

"The U.S. government considers that the government of the Federal Republic of Germany is the only German government freely and legitimately constituted and therefore entitled to speak for the German people in international affairs."

"The U.S. government does not recognize the East German regime nor the existence of a state in Eastern Germany. It remains the goal of U.S. policy to achieve the reunification of all Germans."

Not Regarded As Formal Peace Pact

Kremlin Forewarns Western 'Big 3' To Soften Impact

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union and East Germany signed a friendship treaty today but avoided stirring up a major crisis with the West by stopping short of a World War II peace treaty.

Premier Khrushchev said the treaty would be an important contribution to "the peaceful regulation of the German question."

His announcement to the pact appeared couched in cautious terms.

But East German Communist chief Walter Ulbricht, following the Soviet premier as speaker at a Kremlin meeting, said the treaty provides that East Germany and the Soviet Union will regard isolated West Berlin as "an independent political entity which in no way is part of the West German Federal Republic and to which the competence of the West German Federal Republic does not extend."

The Kremlin, apparently to soften the impact of the latest treaty, had forewarned the governments of the United States, Britain and France.

The three Allied governments consulted on the development, agreed the new pact was not to be considered a peace treaty and therefore created no new critical situation.

Signed In Few Hours

The Soviet premier, his voice hoarse from speaking, said the treaty reflected the desire of Socialist states to work together, and provided for noninterference in the affairs of one another. He spoke at a Soviet-German friendship meeting in the Kremlin.

"The unsettled German question can absolutely unexpectedly provoke a catastrophe. If we want to avoid it, sooner or later statesmen will have to master enough courage to appraise soberly the really existing situation," he said.

"Formalization of the actually existing situation that has already taken shape is the only point in question. This would not demand any sacrifices or

Man Turns Flame Thrower on Pupils

COLONE, Germany (AP)—A crazed man who fatally sprayed two women teachers and scared 28 children and another teacher with a flame thrower died Thursday night after he was shot by police, then gulped down poison.

The worker, Walter Seifert, 40, a tubercular lathe operator, was shot in the pelvis as he tried to flee from the school. Before police could subdue him he swallowed the contents of a small bottle of insect killer. Doctors who treated Seifert for tuberculosis had classed him as mentally unstable but harmless. Before he died he told police he was fed up with the way physicians had treated his illness and wanted to take revenge.

Little Ordeal

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals for every husband is wife-waiting. Earning a living for a wife, a fellow finds out, is one of the easier things about marriage. It takes only about eight hours a day.

This leaves a man 16 full hours for wife-waiting and other such essential chores as sleeping, shaving, eating, walking the dog and obeying his children.

There are several kinds of wife-waiting, but they break down into four general classes: Waiting for her to make up her mind, get to the point, to shut up after she does get to the point, and to get dressed so you can go somewhere together. Getting ready is no problem to him. All he has to do is wash his face, put on a clean shirt, look in a mirror and say, Oh, you handsome, money-making devil, you. Then he could be off at a gallop—if it weren't for that little problem of waiting for his wife.

Wives are a terrible lot of trouble to themselves. They never have anything to wear, they claim, but they always manage to summon up a different wardrobe for every possible function.

Whatever the occasion, she has to outfit herself in a different manner. While she is putting on this, taking off that, then changing into something else, her husband is fuming himself into a state of high blood pressure.

Some husbands try to do something about it.

Why does it always take you so long to get dressed? they demand peevishly. Then their own ears are bent for the next few hours.

No husband can point out a wife's fault to her without learning immediately of 612 major defects in his own character, some of which he never suspected.

Still other husbands try to improve themselves in some way while waiting for their wives. They take up hobbies, read long books or go next door and hold hands with a neighbor's wife.

One fellow took a correspondence course in ventriloquism during the long hours he had to spend while waiting for his wife to get dressed. He became quite expert at bird calls. He was accidentally shot during the quail season while imitating a bob white.

The most sensible attitude a husband can adopt toward wife-waiting is one of philosophic acceptance.

The problem of wife-waiting is pretty much like the problem of erosion: There isn't much any one man can do about it in his lifetime.

You begin to grow up in this world when you realize that some things can't be cured—they must be endured.

Like liver and onions? Chances are, then, that you'll enjoy some strips of green pepper added to the onion when you cook it.

'Employability' Counts

U. S. Office of Education estimates 447,000 men and women will have earned bachelors degrees this June.

Nearly 13,000 will be given doctorates, besides thousands more receiving masters degrees. And this is only a foretaste of what will be forthcoming next year and in the years immediately ahead. Boys and girls born in 1945 and 1946, the baby-boom years, now are ready for college.

About half this June's 2.3 million high school graduates will attend college. Next year there will be at least 2.5 million high school graduates, with the same proportion college-bound.

SECRETARY OF LABOR Wirtz, in his traditional open letter to 1964 graduates issued last March, assured this year's crop of job-hunters that prospects were bright. This is true despite nagging worry about chronic unemployment.

It now is firmly established that unemployment in this country should be called "unemployability." There is no lack of jobs — only a lack of job applicants with qualifications to hold the jobs available.

Demand for engineers continues strong. There is unprecedented demand for high school and elementary school teachers; at least 200,000 are needed for next year.

But even in this promising field the pattern of unemployability is appearing. An increasing number of city school systems are requiring masters degrees for teachers.

Merely to possess a bachelor degree in the arts or sciences is not enough in other employment areas.

COLLEGES AND universities are expanding efforts to supply more candidates for doctorates.

One great university, Yale, is trying to make this easier by allowing some candidates to take both bachelors and masters degrees in four years. Another Ivy League school, Dartmouth, is swinging over to year-around schooling, so students can take their first degree in three years.

To get a job these days is easy if the job-seeker is employable, meaning educated. Otherwise, as nagging statistics on chronic "unemployability" make plain, getting a job is impossible.

They Never Appreciate Us

Americans winced and their necks reddened last week when a Frenchman, President Charles de Gaulle, and a Briton, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, went out of their way to show ingratitude for the U.S. contribution in World War II.

This kind of snubbing and discourtesy cannot be called surprising; it is standard procedure, like the wincing and the anger that ensue whenever De Gaulle cold-shoulders the United States or Montgomery renews his personal feud with Dwight D. Eisenhower.

It would help if Americans could get rid of the idea that their country was seeking gratitude for entering World War II and joining France and Britain as a member of the Western Allies.

The United States was forced into World War II by the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor and by declarations of war against it by Germany and Italy.

It was fighting for survival. It was helping itself when it helped its allies. There was no altruism involved. Its aim was to keep the war at a distance — to supply Russia with enough material to sustain large-scale action on an eastern front against Germany while joining the British in large-scale action on the western front and simultaneously holding off the Japanese and eventually driving them back to Japan in the Pacific theater.

Gratitude was no consideration.

There has been a great deal of it, nevertheless, even among Americans who realize what it meant to have Britain as a buffer state between them and an aggressor Germany in two World Wars in this century.

But gratitude isn't what Americans sought when they fought. They fought because they were attacked. They fought to survive.

If you desire to hit the open road when summer comes you'll probably find it closed for repairs.

Best Ever

By Truman Twill

This year, for the first time ever, the news media may pool their resources in a national election tabulation.

National news agencies, with their far-flung local resources for reporting results, may team up with television networks to give the public — and themselves — the most comprehensive unofficial returns ever compiled in the hours between the final closing of the polls and the start of the official count.

There also is the possibility they may wait for the polls to close on the Pacific Coast before telling how things turned out back East. They learned in 1960 that early returns from the East had a potential effect on the outcome in the West and that politicians were doing everything in their power to make this potentiality turn into actuality.

All well and good. The news media will get together sooner or later, and it might as well be 1964 as some later national election year.

BUT THERE IS still something to be said for another way of counting votes in a national election — not much, but something.

The other way it would be for everybody who has been up since early morning of Election Day to lock up, go home to a good hot meal, then go to bed as usual — no vote-counting.

All ballot boxes and voting machines would be locked up tight until time to start to work Wednesday. Then, with everybody fresh and dew-eyed, a methodical counting of votes would begin.

There could be electronic projections, extra editions of newspapers, frantic jabbering on TV and all the hoopla of the traditional election-night vote-counting. But this would be done by and for people not already exhausted by a long hard day.

If one more change could be made, the whole thing would be ideal.

Voting should be done on Saturday, which is everybody's day off. That would get rid of the jam at the polls as home-bound workers stop to vote. It would eliminate makeshift arrangements for working people who want to vote and must ask for time off to do it.

BALLOT BOXES and voting machines then could be locked up until a new week began the next Monday morning. By that time, the dry-mouthed excitement of the closing passages of the national campaign would have subsided. Common sense would have reasserted itself.

The whole thing could be taken in stride. In the event of a cliff-hanger, there would be all day Monday and half of Monday night to stay in suspense. Tuesday would be just another day. Everybody would have had a good night's rest.

No sleep would have been lost by anyone, except the candidates and the people who had put up the money and the effort. Half a billion cups of coffee would be saved plus 10 billion cigarettes and carloads of catnives, tranquilizers, pep pills, and alcoholic beverages.

The idea doesn't have a chance — but could have a national election sometime without wrecking its collective health?

By VICTOR RIESEL

Special labor men have been attending atomic schools" up at Oak Ridge. They are key officials and technicians who have been dispatched to the K-25 building center by the International Union of Operating Engineers.

Victor Riesel

organizing drives in the industries of the future and to teach its people how not to be radiated out of that future.

The Operating Engineers' Union, which also sends its men to Stanford University classes, wants to avoid the experiences of a sister union — the Plumbers and Pipefitters who man an atomic plant in Pennsylvania. Some of the workers there have absorbed a full radiation quota. So these plumbers must leave the well-paying atomic power industry forever, because additional radiation doses would be crippling or lethal.

So the Operating Engineers, with its eyes on still little known space age businesses, is sending some of its men to Oak Ridge and Stanford for an atomic education and then returning them to their local unions to teach, in turn, space age techniques and safety.

IT'S NOT ONLY labor techniques which this avant-garde of labor is learning. They're staking out the space industries for the union's organizers — for example, such industries as cryogenics, thermo-electric refrigeration, new fuel cell heat and power, thermionic power generation, desalination (turning salt and brackish water into potable liquid for drinking, irrigation and industrial uses), as well as cybernetics (electronic brain control of machinery and data systems).

To unionize these fields before they are created, the union must first know what the work will be like, where it will be located and how big a new industry each one will develop.

The biggest apparently will be desalination. At the moment the Interior Department's Office of Saline Water has requests from over 1,000 communities for the establishment of experimental water purifying plants. This means that there are several thousand areas throughout the United States which could use desalting installations to relieve parched areas and prevent some districts and businesses from literally withering away.

There truly is no economical system of turning salt water into fresh water but the government has spent more than $5 million in 9 months on 70 projects in the effort.

IN THE COMPETITION to design purifying plants are such large corporations as Monsanto, Westinghouse and smaller ones such as Struthers Wells, which had its beginnings with the start of another basic American industry at Titusville, Pa., when oil was discovered at its doorstep.

If any succeed, they will have created an industry which will employ hundreds of thousands of men in plants which not only will purify water, but provide nuclear heat and power — and even steamheat the oceans along such wintery coasts as Mine's for 40 to 50 miles to a stretch.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) is working with the Interior Department on such projects.

As recently as Feb. 21, the AEC asked American industry to design and bid on advanced nuclear power projects including desalination plants which could also produce electricity and, as a by-product, convert "inert" materials such as thorium or uranium-238 into atomic fuel.

The commission set Oct. 1 as the deadline for proposals on four types of space age reactors, so we're not as distant as it would seem from the miracles of the space era.

MANY EXPERTS believe that within a few decades desalination will be as basic an industry as oils and rails were to the end of the last century and as steel, autos and finally space have been to the 20th century.

The Operating Engineers see the new industries as a whole new jurisdiction. The stationary engineers are the valve-watching men of the past and present. The future will also be a valve-watching and push bottom era. So at the end of their recent convention in San Francisco, the officials of the International Union of Operating Engineers led by their comparatively new president Hunter P. Wharton, has a small conference of their stationary men.

They decided to prepare their space age unionizing drive right there. They will have the money because the convention voted an increase in per capita dues for the first time in decades. They will have the know-how because the union was the first — at its convention — to consolidate its research, educational and organizing department into one big division. And they'll have the skilled space age business agents because they are now going to "atomic schools."

"I'm Up, World — Ready Or Not!"

Political Mystery Building Up

By DAVID LAWRENCE

There is something of a political mystery building up. It's understandable why certain Republicans who may have favored rival candidates in their own party are happy because, as it looks now, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona is going to get the presidential nomination but it's puzzling why so many Democrats are unhappy.

Many of the anti-Goldwater comments have come from people who consider themselves "liberals" in the Democratic party and from those who profess to be non-partisan but actually have a deep-seated antagonism not only toward Sen. Goldwater but against everything for which he stands.

If the Arizona senator's philosophy is, as alleged, so unpopular and if the Republican party is supposedly doomed to destruction if it does nominate Sen. Goldwater, then it's difficult to see why there should be rejoicing among those writers who have been espousing the cause of the Democratic party.

IS IT POSSIBLE that Sen. Goldwater has more popularity than appears on the surface and that for this reason Democrats fear he may have more backing among the voters than he is publicly credited with having?

It even might be that the Arizona senator has the support of the "grassroots" sentiment in state after state that his strength with the voters has been actually underestimated in the last few months. It's to be noted that the public opinion polls were recently proved wrong in California — the most populous state in the Union.

If Sen. Goldwater's candidacy is, as it is now claimed by his critics, about to hurt the Republican party, why shouldn't the Democratic party exultantly anticipate a landslide victory?

President Johnson, of course, is not the idol of the so-called "liberals" in this country, but he is subject to their dominating influence inside his own party.

His stand on civil rights legislation, for example, only a few years ago was different from what it is today. He never could have gotten the vice-presidential nomination, nor could he have attained the strength he now has within his own party, if he had not been willing to make adjustments or to implement principles in a way that is satisfactory to the Democratic leaders in the Northern states.

THERE ARE Republicans, of course, who think that maybe Sen. Goldwater, too, can be persuaded to adopt a "flexible" strategy and that, by the time the Republican platform is written, he may be willing to accept a document with some high-sounding phrases that extol certain principles on civil rights, for example, without necessarily endorsing all of the specific proposals for carrying out those principles.

One thing that is unmistakable is that, while national political conventions are of controlled and operated by the professional politicians, they cannot ignore underlying public sentiment. There has been a rapidly growing support among Republican voters for Sen. Goldwater. It has been based on the assumption that he is a courageous individual who is not afraid to dispute the policies and programs of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

Much of the outspoken comment in favor of the Arizona senator comes from people throughout the country who are not particularly concerned with the deviations that occur now and then in the impromptu speeches of public men.

MR. GOLDWATER is regarded basically as a symbol of protest and as a man who will really make a fight during the campaign and reflect the opposition to administration policies by many citizens.

There are, to be sure, some Democrats in every state who are sympathetic to the Goldwater movement. It's too early to say how much of a crossover vote from the Democratic to the Republican party will emerge in the autumn elections but the caustic attacks recently on Sen.

Goldwater by Democratic party spokesmen may, in the long run, prove beneficial to him.

While he certainly cannot count on getting any of those same liberal votes on the Democratic side, or even hope to retain some of the voters in the category who happen to be Republicans, he may find the crossover exchange advantageous to him numerically. There may be more Democrats who will leave their party than there will be Republicans who will cross over to the Johnson candidacy.

At this early date it is difficult to say whether the election will be close on the electoral side, because a majority of only one vote within each state can decide its electoral vote. But it is conceivable that the Republican party in November will pull a much larger popular vote than has been predicted heretofore.

Cuba's Case Revived

By BERT QUINT

MEXICO CITY

After more than half a year of stalling, Latin American governments appear ready to make up their minds what to do about Venezuela's charges of Cuban aggression and demands that action be taken against Fidel Castro.

When Venezuela announced last November that it had uncovered a large supply of Cuban weapons in its territory, aimed at overthrowing the pro-American, anti-Communist regime of then-President Romulo Betancourt, it created a delicate political problem for the Organization of American States.

Here, Venezuelans said, was the first iron-clad evidence that Cubans were trying to export their revolution to other countries. Now, they insisted, the OAS has no choice but to declare Cuba guilty of aggression under the Inter-American Mutual Aid Treaty of Rio de Janeiro of 1947.

VENEZUELA hoped that a meeting of the hemisphere's foreign ministers would be convoked and that sanctions would be imposed on Cuba. The proposed sanctions caused the problem. Under the Rio treaty, if Cuba were declared guilty of aggression against Venezuela, the OAS could — by vote — force those of its members who maintained diplomatic and commercial relations with the Castro government to break them.

Theoretically, it could also resort to the use of armed force against Cuba, although such a move was not considered likely.

In November, five Latin nations had diplomatic relations with Cuba — Mexico, Brazil, Chile, Uruguay and Bolivia. They were against taking strong action. They believed, above all, that breaking relations with Cuba could mean severe trouble from leftist elements at home.

And so, Venezuela's charges and demands remained in limbo.

Now that Brazil has broken its ties with Castro in the wake of its anti leftist military revolt, a new attempt is being made.

The OAS Council has prepared a new and watered-down draft of resolutions that could prove more palatable to the four countries still recognizing the Castro government — and especially to Mexico, which is the only one of them with any sizeable communications or trade with Cuba.

The most important difference between this draft and Venezuela's original demands is that the OAS would, if it got the necessary votes, recommend rather than order its members to break off diplomatic ties, trade and communications with Cuba. It also would urge countries outside of the OAS to do the same.

ONE OBSTACLE in forcing action against Cuba has been the difficulty in proving aggression. The draft now in the hands of Latin governments calls for defining aggression as being something that is not limited to armed attack.

Another difference in the present draft is the removal of the charges and demands for sanctions be taken up at a foreign ministers' meeting. The choice now is left up to the OAS members — a foreign ministers' meeting or a meeting of the OAS Council in Washington.

Nevertheless, President Francisco Orlich of Costa Rica, a principal force in the OAS drive against Castro, thinks there will be a conference of foreign ministers. He said recently that he was hopeful such a conference would be held in San Jose, his capital.

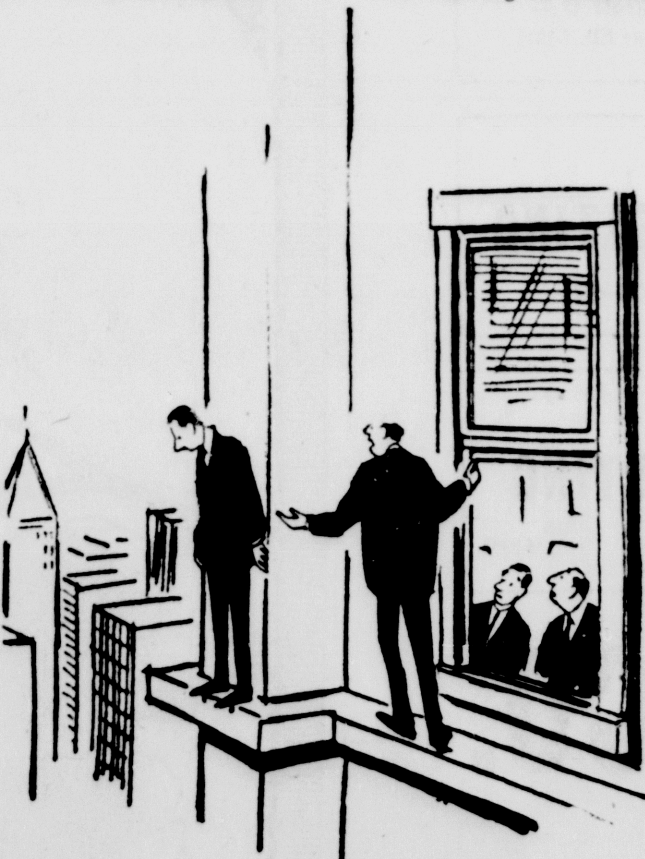

Orlich also said that he believed enough votes could be obtained to force political and economic sanctions against Cuba.

Informed sources in Mexico say that, one way or another, the Latin governments will reach a decision soon. If it is to be a meeting of the OAS Council in Washington, they say, it may be held as early as June 17. If it is to be a foreign ministers' meeting, they believe it will be held no later than July.

The U.S. reportedly would be happy to see either kind of meeting held.

URGE POLIO IMMUNIZATION

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans must not become over-confident just because the state's polio total dropped to six last year, health officials say. They urge anyone without immunization to arrange for it, noting that two cases have been reported already.

Nationally, it's estimated there may be as few as 200 cases this year. But Dr. Harold A. Decker, chief of the state's communicable diseases division, says: "When the total has gone as low as six, it's difficult to say if we can get below it."

Beauty for the asking

By JOSEPHINE KAERCHER, Beauty Consultant
MERLE NORMAN COSMETICS STUDIO

Sometimes I get the idea that everybody has make-up problems - and I guess everybody does.

Let's take the problem of dark shadows under your eyes. Everybody gets 'em, sometime or other, and most gals just live with them, until they get enough rest to get rid of them. It doesn't take much experimenting to realize that just ordinary powder base won't do the job - although there are some make-up tricks that do help.

What you probably don't know is that dark circles are like shadows and you can get rid of these temporary shadows with highlights. All you have to do is retouch them - and it's pretty simple.

There's a retouch product, as a matter of fact, that's like your make-up base, but lighter in color and a little heavier in texture. (Buy it at least two shades lighter than your regular make-up base.) Your skin absorbs a portion of it and the rest blends in with your base.

Here's how to handle it. Cleanse your face thoroughly with all-purpose cold cream. Apply powder base, but only up to the area where the "shadows" are. Now apply your retouch pretty heavily and pat it lightly into those little dark depressions with two fingers, until it completely fills in the area you want to cover.

Now, blend it into where you stopped applying base, so there's no ridge or color line. For extra security, dampen a piece of tissue with cold water and pat it over the retouch to set it. Then, lightly, cover the area with make-up base and you're ready to finish your make-up.

For a little extra trick to brighten your eyes, use retouch just near the corner of your eyes and blend into the side of your nose, just at the bridge.

The skillful use of rouge, by the way, draws attention away from those dark under-eye shadows and helps to minimize them.

If this sounds too complex, just write to me, care of this newspaper, or phone me and I'll be delighted to give you personal attention, answer your questions, and give you a free hour of beauty besides.

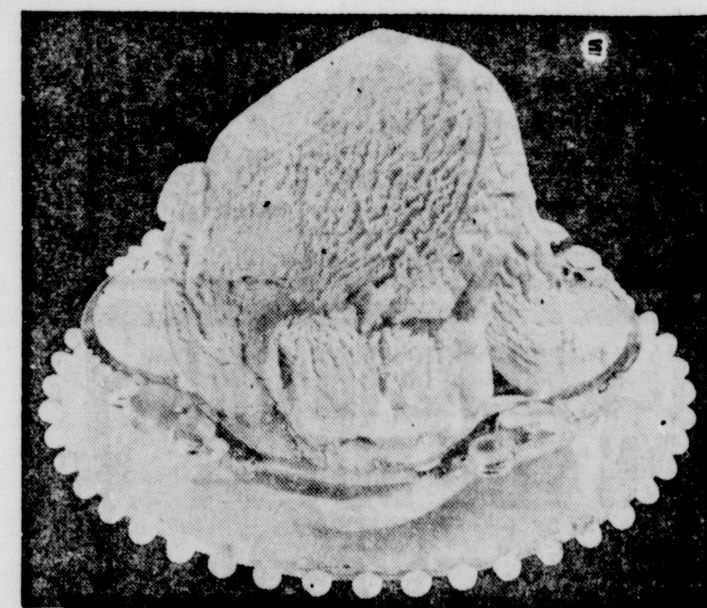

All of which only proves my point—beauty is for the asking.

TV-Radio Today

By ALAN GILL

"Boy, Would I Have Run With That!"

Simply by not declaring Barry Goldwater the winner of the G.O.P. California primary in those first tense hours last Tuesday night, the election-coverage boss at NBC News, Robert "Shad" Northshield, returned to his New York office later in the week a conquering hero. Television columnists including this one, were scolding CBS for calling the winner just 22 minutes after the polls closed and then sweating out the night as the Goldwater lead narrowed and, for a few scaring hours (for CBS), vanished altogether. NBC and ABC did not put up the checkmark alongside Sen. Goldwater's name until 12:51 a. m. and 11:10 p.m. EDT, respectively; in waiting it out, wrote critic Jack Gould, they "took the panic out of TV journalism."

Gould concluded his piece with a complaint that the computers and the pollsters were draining our most dramatic political events of their drama — which, I agree, is lamentable — and the observation that "the gadgets on CBS were less interesting than the human race on NBC."

IN HIS NBC OFFICE Thursday morning, Shad Northshield would listen to no talk about the malevolent electronics of election reporting. "Cut it out," he said, waving a large paw. "What we did or didn't do the other night was based 100 percent on the computer. If we were right or wrong, then we were right or wrong because our computer happened to be right. By their first projection, CBS saw Goldwater ahead, 54 to 46. My God, that's a landslide! If my computer had told me that, boy, would I have run with it!"

"In the late hours of the night, I was pretty scared for CBS. A fellow I talked to on the telephone called it 'playing Russian roulette with their journalistic reputation.' But I long since started being scared for us — at 10:22, to be exact, when CBS declared."

Then I was scared again at 10:44, in a funny way. You see, in Oregon we called the winner 30 seconds after the polls closed, 22 minutes ahead of CBS. Now, here it was California, 22 minutes after CBS had called it. Once that point was passed, somehow the competitive factor wasn't anything to worry about any more.

"I HONESTLY THINK of NBC News as top dog, the Hertz instead of the Avis. Maybe I'd have felt differently Tuesday night if we weren't the Hertz; maybe we'd have been a bit more trigger-happy. Instead, we had a machine that showed no clear winner yet. And boy! Sitting those hours out took guts. I've never been under worse personal pressure in my life, though I must say my bosses couldn't have been nicer. It was everybody else who was getting edgy. Then I'd look at the machine and that machine said, 'Shut up.'"

"Of course it's nothing more than an adding machine, that thing — a great big adding machine that happens to be better than any ever conceived of before. Its job is to give us accurate information that we might have, to people who don't have it."

I RECALLED THAT the drama of past elections and conventions came in the human factors of the "show," as in the moment four years ago when the Democratic Convention fell apart in a thundering demonstration for Adlai Stevenson after Sen. Eugene McCarthy's great nominating speech.

The TV reporters seemed as caught up in the emotion of the moment as the delegates. And only Eric Sevareid (by my recollection) sat back coolly and said, in effect, "Don't get excited, nothing will come of it." The fallibility of the other reporters, I said, at least made me better dramatists than the RCA 301 computer is.

"Ah, you're 'way out!'" said Northshield. "I know what you mean and I kinda agree. But a news team is dedicated to accuracy — the gathering and conveying of swift, accurate information, even if it comes from a machine. It HAS to be our job."

U.S. Flights Over Laos To Resume

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Premier Souvanna Phouma said today that U.S. reconnaissance flights over Central Laos will resume in the next day or two because "important movements" of Communist forces are under way there.

The flights were suspended Wednesday at Souvanna's request.

"Unfortunately," the premier told a news conference, "recent information reaching us shows that important movements of Pathet Lao and Vietminh troops are taking place in these (Communist-controlled) zones."

"The flights will therefore be continued and if the Pathet Lao want them to stop it is up to them to create the necessary conditions."

Souvanna said he has no objection to armed American fighter escorts for the reconnaissance planes. He said Laos itself has no means to protect the flights.

Previously it had been believed that the violent objections from the Pathet Lao and Communist China to the flights, and particularly to the use of armed American escorts, had been a big factor in Souvanna's request that the flights be suspended.

But the premier said today, as he had Thursday, that he requested their suspension because there had been a "lull in the operational zone."

Planning

of the committees to date.

He went on to say that the method is not the same as that which a planner would use, although the information is such that it can be utilized.

He suggested the commission get started as soon as possible on the actual planning program, adding there is a need to formulate the inter-relationship of the different aspects of planning and to project them to the future as soon as possible.

The commission when formed had hoped to employ a planner, but has not had sufficient funds to retain one. The commission decided to proceed with the collection of vital data which could be used by a planner later.

Kaschack also stressed the need to consider industry, residential areas, recreation and other fields as interdependent and to plan for all.

He was introduced by Floyd Lower, president. The July meeting has been canceled, and the next session will be Aug. 13.

Swedish Spy Gets Life In Prison

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Col. Stig Wennerstrom of the Swedish air force was sentenced to life in prison today for spying against Sweden for the Soviet Union.

The sentence, Sweden's most severe in peacetime, was handed down 10 days before Soviet Premier Khrushchev is due in Stockholm on a visit.

When Wennerstrom was arrested a year ago, Premier Tage Erlander said relations between Sweden and the Soviet Union had been seriously disturbed by the case. But recently he declined to comment when asked how this might affect Khrushchev's visit.

Wennerstrom, 57, was arrested after 14 years of espionage activities in Moscow, Washington and Stockholm.

His activity was mainly directed against the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, he said.

Wennerstrom received notice of the sentence from the Central Criminal Court in a special steel and concrete prison "bunker" in which he has been kept since a suicide attempt.

He will be eligible for parole after 10 years.

shchev. Since 1962, he has been trying to persuade the Romanians to come back fully into the Communist camp and integrate their economy with Comecon—economic organization of East European states.

Instead, Gherghiu-Dej has shunned many Comecon meetings and increased trade with the West.

In April, when the Communist leaders were attending Khrushchev's 70th birthday celebrations in Moscow, Gherghiu-Dej stayed home and met with his Romanian Workers' (Communist) party. In a statement he party attacked Soviet interference in the affairs of Communist countries.

Gherghiu-Dej then sent his trade mission to the United States. Additionally, Romania has:

1. Inquired about possibilities of joining GATT, the West's general tariff and trade agreement.
2. Considerably relaxed regulations for Western (but not Eastern) tourists to enter the country, obviously to encourage more hard currency from them.
3. Expressed interest in buying two nuclear power plants from Britain or the United States.
4. Quietly cut down Soviet influence in schools and cultural institutions.

Also passed was a resolution to the county auditor to have the issue placed on the November ballot. Auditor Kenneth Bell has estimated the millage from the bond issue will be 1.9 to run for 20 years.

Another resolution was certified to the county auditor for the renewal of a 3.6-mill operating levy and a four-tenths mill additional levy. The levy was originally for four mills but was cut back four-tenths after the recent reappraisal.

The bond issue is to provide for new construction and improvements, including enlargement of the Waterford building, bettering the heating systems at both Fairfield and Waterford, and building a larger shop area at Crestview High.

The board voted to receive bids until the July 9 meeting on a 1949 International ton and a half van truck it no longer needs.

Permission was granted to Mrs. Alberta Baughman, high school secretary, to attend a workshop for educational secretaries at Kent State University July 12-15.

The board entered into a contract with the Leetonia Type-writer Service for the cleaning and maintenance of the machines at $5 each.

'PT 109'

Publishers of JFK Book, Movie Firm Sued

CLEVELAND (AP)—Claiming the book, "PT 109," and the movie based upon it libeled her son and invaded her privacy, the mother of a Navy man who served on the boat under the late President John Kennedy has sued two publishing firms and a movie company for $1-125,000.

Mrs. Sarah Albert, whose son was killed by a World War II Japanese prisoner after the PT boat incident, filed the suit Thursday in U.S. district court here.

Raymond Albert was a seaman 2-C aboard the patrol boat commanded by the man who later became president. The boat was rammed and sunk in 1943 by the Japanese destroyer Amagiri. Albert and 10 others, including Lt. Kennedy, survived the crash.

The complaint said Albert was depicted in the book and movie inaccurately, in a manner that was "derogatory and insulting and caused (Mrs. Albert) embarrassment."

The suit contends profits gained through the book and movie will exceed $50 million. It asked for an accounting of profits and an injunction to halt sale of the books and exhibition of the film.

Mrs. Albert's attorney, Jerome Katz, said the movie "appropriated something that belongs to her without first obtaining her consent." He added that Mrs. Albert had asked Warner Brothers not to release the movie.

Also named as defendants were McGraw-Hill Book Co. Inc., and Fawcett Publishing Inc.

The book tells how, two months after the PT 109 incident, Seaman Albert was killed aboard another torpedo boat by a prisoner who asked Albert for water and then snatched the seaman's sub-machine gun and shot him.

Scranton

Eisenhower urged Scranton to make himself "more available" for the nomination.

Scranton flew to Cleveland Sunday morning for the Governors' Conference prepared to announce he would welcome support from GOP moderates. He did not intend, however, to campaign. Then shortly after his arrival, Scranton received a telephone call from Eisenhower who, disturbed by press reports, said he did not want it to appear that Scranton had been tapped by Eisenhower for the nomination or that he was part of any "stop Goldwater" movement.

Visibly shaken, Scranton went on television and reiterated his previous position. This was the opposite of what had been expected.

Without the expected rallying point, Scranton backers, Goldwater opponents and nonaligned GOP forces broke into confusion.

Eisenhower was back in the picture Thursday. He told The Associated Press he wanted a wide-open Republican National Convention to stir the party's and nation's interest.

He disavowed a role of either pulling strings for—or cutting the ground from under—Scranton.

At stake in the Maryland convention are 20 delegate votes to the San Francisco convention. It was reported in Baltimore that Goldwater's total commitments ranged from 4 to 10.

Scranton is chairman of the 64-vote Pennsylvania delegation. All but three are committed to support him. The other three have indicated they favor Goldwater.

losses from either side."

The Soviet Union, East Germany and the other Communist countries have struggled and will struggle for a German peace settlement and localization of the situation in West Berlin on this basis, he added.

Accuses Red China
At one point he digressed to accuse Communist China of wanting a world war in order to spread communism by depending on the Soviet Union to win the war.

"When we have a chance we will use all our influence so there will be no war," Khrushchev declared.

A man would have to be insane to call for war in the time of nuclear weapons, he went on, saying that the bomb that destroyed Hiroshima is now considered a toy and who knows what a 100-megaton bomb would do?

Khrushchev said the United States claims it has enough nuclear weapons to kill each Russian three times. It also says Khrushchev added that the Soviet Union has enough nuclear weapons to kill each American once.

"We don't need any more than that," he commented, an audience of 6,000 laughed and applauded.

John D. Stanley, 17, of RD, Beloit, was cited for failing to stop in the assured clear distance after he hit the rear of a car operated by Earl V. Hardy, 71, of North Georgetown, 12:15 p.m. Thursday on County Rd. 404, three miles south of Westville.

Stanley was headed south when an article fell off the front seat. While trying to catch the article, Stanley approached the Hardy car fast and struck it in the rear.

Hints from Heloise

DER HELOISE: For those who live near beaches and have children... take along your empty plastic bleach bottles. Cap the top on tightly and throw one in the ocean. It will bob along the waves... then try catching it!

You will be surprised how evasive that bottle is and what it gets lost? All you have to do is pick up another one from your stock of bottles.

IMA FRIEND.

This idea could also be used in any swimming pool! Look at the fun the kiddies would have batting it around! But be SURE the top is glued on tightly as an extra precaution.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I don't like to use glass ash trays on our patio, because of breakage, so I have painted several tuna fish, pineapple and coffee cans for ash trays. These can't be broken.

Sand, or pebbles, may be put in the bottom for snuffing cigarettes.

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: With all the talk about mosquitoes this summer, I thought you would like to know what I do about my house plant which I keep in water.

I simply pour mineral oil in the flower container!

The oil stays on top of the water... thus keeping the mosquitoes from breeding. This way you do not have to change the water every week.

United School Sets Kindergarten Period

Summer kindergarten at United Schools will begin June 22 and continue until July 31. Class hours will be from 8:30 to 11 a.m. Parents must provide their own transportation. In order for a child to attend kindergarten, he must be six years old by Sept. 15, 1964, announces School Executive Head C. M. Brautigam.

A few children do not have complete records in the school office of their vaccination, immunization, and birth and Brautigam recommended that these be taken care of before June 19.

Pony, Horse Training Session Draws 100

Approximately 100 4-H members and parents attended the 4-H horse and pony training Thursday night at the county fair grounds in Lisbon.

Henry Long, Lisbon RD 5; Carroll Miles, Salem RD 1, and Walter Holmes, Winona, provided 4-H members with information about working with young horses and ponies.

A demonstration was held on teaching a colt to follow commands. A discussion on showing animals also was held.

New ABCs For Our Children (Article 2):

I-T-A Alphabet Cuts Through the Fog

(Second of Three Articles.)
By WILLIAM SCHALL

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Until recently more than 30 per cent of the first-graders in Bethlehem, Pa., could not read at the second-grade level at the end of their first school year.

Today, only an insignificant percentage of the first-graders are below their required reading level. It is more of a milestone than a miracle. The children were not specially selected; they have just had the advantage of Sir James Pitman's Initial Teaching Alphabet (I-T-A).

Six hundred first-graders in the Bethlehem school system began their reading experience with I-T-A last September. Less than a year after beginning, 30 per cent were reading at the fourth-grade level, 50 per cent were reading at the third-grade level, and most of the rest had achieved the second-grade level of reading ability. Similar results have been achieved in many British schools where the children have been using I-T-A for the past three years.

I-T-A programs are being used in the following states: New York, Ohio, Arizona, Pennsylvania, Michigan, New Jersey, Connecticut, California, Illinois, Washington, and New Mexico. This is just the beginning, and it is anticipated that from these early programs a tenfold increase is expected.

WHAT IS THIS ALPHABET and why does it lead to such fantastic results?

Pitman's Initial Teaching Alphabet consists of 44 symbols, one for each sound in our language. This removes many of the inconsistencies of our language at the very start. Your child can learn to read a logical alphabet and make an easy, smooth transition to the traditional or grown-up alphabet a year or so after he has successfully mastered the basic principles of reading. He will no longer, as you had to do, puzzle out the A of "apple," the A in "ran," and why it is different in "pin" or "paw." With I-T-A, the A of apple is always pronounced the same whenever it appears. The word pain has its own symbol, (ae) for its different sound, and there is another I-T-A symbol for the A in pawn (au). At last! no confusion. ONE SYMBOL STANDS FOR ONE SOUND!

The results are overwhelming. Children learn to read faster and easier. The greatest causes of failure are removed. They read with improved comprehension and accuracy, and their entire attitude toward school and schooling is improved.

These changes have been proven by the programs carried out in England and the results of this past year in Bethlehem, Pa., add further proof.

WHAT ABOUT transition? This is the most common question, and one certainly that, if there were doubts about I-T-A, would raise a cogent point. Does the child have to learn an entirely new alphabet to make the transition?

In the first place, 24 of the 44 symbols are the familiar ones. Another large group are two familiar symbols joined. Very few new symbols are developed to stand for their own sound.

Sir James designed the I-T-A alphabet for its compatibility with our regular alphabet. The I-T-A alphabet is always used with an eye to transition to our regular alphabet.

Just as a child does not have to unlearn walking in order to run, so also a child does not have to unlearn I-T-A in order to read the traditional alphabet. I-T-A is merely a step, although a giant step, which the child makes in order to pass to the more demanding task of reading the regular alphabet.

Evidence from all the programs to date indicates that transition is an easy, gradual thing for many children, and it is almost immediate. Most children, having achieved fluency in reading I-T-A, make the transition without awareness, and lose none of the superior reading ability in the process.

THERE IS MORE to I-T-A than just reading. Ease of reading has a strong carry-over to the ability of the child to express his thoughts on paper.

In Bethlehem, the first-graders wrote almost twice as many compositions as children being taught in the old way. The attendant speech therapist commented on the children's speech improvement, and the teachers and school psychologist noted the improvement in attitudes in I-T-A classes.

General interest in I-T-A has been such that teachers have written from every state in the Union, and he commoswealth of Puerto Rico.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Pregnancy Tests Near-Perfect

Dr. Brandstadt

Because there is no such thing as being a little bit pregnant, scientists have long searched for tests that will accurately determine whether or not a woman is pregnant. Tests that used frogs, rabbits and other animals were fairly accurate, but required several days to perform. We now have a number of greatly improved tests all based on a serologic reaction between three ingredients: sheep's red blood cells that have been treated with an extract of human placenta, blood serum that contains antibodies against this extract and the freshly voided urine of the woman who suspects that she is pregnant. The different tests vary only in minor details.

IN SOME CASES the test indicates pregnancy as early as four days after the skipped menstrual period. The tests are performed with controls that compare the reaction of the suspect's urine with that of urine from known pregnant and non-pregnant women. The results are said to be 95 to 100 percent accurate. In addition to greater accuracy than was possible with the older tests, the new tests have the advantage that they can be set up in a few minutes and the results can be read in two hours or less. Another difference is that, whereas inaccuracies in the older tests were sometimes reporting pregnancy when pregnancy did not exist, the new test sometimes reports negative results early in the course of a pregnancy. Results were improved when at least 30 days had elapsed since the skipped period. Another entirely different type of test, which is said to be 98 percent accurate, has been devised. When a woman suspects she might be pregnant, she takes one tablet of medroxyprogesterone, a hormone derived from the ovaries, every day for five days. If she is not pregnant and there is no other cause for her skipped period, the normal menstrual cycle will be resumed within two to seven days after this treatment. Although he results cannot be judged as quickly with the test as with the serologic tests described, this test has the advantage of correcting many minor conditions that cause temporary cessation of menstruation.

Old Dutch Rolls To 5th, Blanks Merchant's 8-0

Bob Carbaugh Fans 13 Men Hurls 4th 2-Hit Game This Season

Bob Carbaugh, pitcher for Old Dutch, hurled a two-hit 8-0 shutout at the Merchants in City Softball (fast-pitch) League action at Kelley Field last night.

In previous games, Old Dutch had blanked three other squads, one of them the result of a no-hitter. Only one team has scored on Old Dutch.

Carbaugh was also the hurler in the 8-1 decision over the Merchants earlier in the season. He gave up only two hits on that occasion too.

Last night, the young fast-ball pitcher faced only 17 men, 13 of them striking out. He didn't give up a walk.

It was Carbaugh's fourth straight victory. All of them have been two-hitters.

His Old Dutch teammates gave him solid support, scoring three runs in the initial inning.

Dick Wyse clouted a two-run home run in the fifth, and Bill Furguson ended the game with a triple, which sent Bruce Feight racing home with the eighth marker.

According to softball rules in Salem, the game is automatically ended when any team leads by eight or more runs at the end of the fifth frame.

Jerry Beiling had a base hit in the third inning, and Casey Lease singled in the fourth, the only Merchant batters to get hits off Carbaugh.

In their five straight victories, John Stoffer has drawn the only other sterling assignment. He tossed a no-hitter at Willie's Bait Shop as his team romped 15-0 June 2.

Bill Pauline carried a big bat and led Moose to an 11-3 victory over Willie's Bait Shop in the other tilt played last night, and Charlie halted a late rally by Fernengel's to triumph 3-2.

Moose took a 3-1 lead in the initial inning. After doubling in the first, Pauline socked a home run in the second, single in the fourth and another double in the fifth. He had four RBIs.

It was the second win in seven starts for Moose, who handed Willie's its eighth straight setback.

Jim Ramsey paced the losers with a double and single.

Singles by Dick Andrick, Dick Dougherty and Sonny Thompson gave Charlie's Boats (5-2) a 2-0 lead in the second inning.

A home run by Jack Jackson was the deciding blow in the fourth frame.

Fernengel's (3-4) almost pulled the game out of the fire in the bottom of the seventh. With one down, Chuck Bush socked a double, and Dick Crosser and Jerry Jeffries hit back-to-back singles.

Tribe Gets Moran In 5-Player Swap

DETROIT (AP)—The Minnesota Twins indicated their trading may just be beginning following a five-player swap with Cleveland and the Los Angeles Angels Thursday.

"We're still trying to get a pitcher," said Twins' Manager Sam Mele. "I don't think we're through (trading) yet."

The deal sent fan favorite and first baseman Vic Power from Minnesota to Los Angeles, Angel infielder Billy Moran to Cleveland and infielder Jerry Kindall from the Indians to the Twins.

Minnesota also traded outfielder Lenny Green to Los Angeles for infielder Frank Kostro, now with Hawaii in the Pacific Coast League.

"Kindall can play all infield positions and he can hit the long ball. He can spell (Zola) Versalles at short," said Mele. "Kostro swings an aggressive bat. He's always hit wherever he's played."

Schoolboys Must Qualify At Regionals First

New Ohio Track Plan Set For Future State Title Meets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The annual high school track-field championships will henceforth be a more attractive, streamlined meet.

The Ohio High School Board of Athletic Control Thursday cut the annual meet to a single day by setting up regional qualifiers in the sport for the first time.

In other action, the board moved to allow football players more competition and acted to boost radio-televised coverage of the state basketball tourney.

The regionals in track also will be held on a one-day basis, slashing the field for the state meet.

District track meets are scheduled next May 15 with regional qualifiers May 22 and the state finals May 29.

Previously, the cinder stars jumped straight from the district to the state meet with 37 qualifying for each Class AA event and about 30 for each race in Class A.

Under the new plan, the districts will send 55 Class AA and 43 Class A boys to the regionals in each event. Only 16 will move on to the state races. In the hurdles, only 12 will qualify for the championship round.

The Class AA regionals will be held at Kent State, Mansfield, Columbus and Dayton, and the Class A regional at Berea, Bowling Green, Columbus and Springfield.

The board also loosened its rigid restrictions on individual football play. The rules limit a player, and his school, to 10 games. But 10 varsity, 10 reserve, 10 junior varsity and 10 freshman tilts may be played, all with different personnel.

The coaches urged that specialists and some reserves, who see only a few minutes action in a varsity game, should be permitted to play in one of the board approved.

It ruled that a boy who plays in only one quarter of a varsity contest may play in a reserve or junior varsity game during the next seven days. If he plays in more than one quarter, he's out of all other tilts for a week.

The board, meeting here in its summer session, decided to allow additional radio stations to broadcast the state basketball tourney and to try to line up a statewide sponsor for telecasts. Last year 28 radio stations applied for permits and more space will be allotted next year.

Allocations from district meets to the state finals in several sports were approved, with few changes from last year. In wrestling, the northwest district loses one boy in each weight division, and the southwest gains one.

In golf, the southwest loses one team, the only change in that fast-growing sport which found 381 schools boasting squads this year.

Giants Lose 6-5, Drop To 2nd Place

Aspromonte's Grand-Slam Homer Gives Colts 5-3 Win Over Reds

By MIKE RATHET

There have been 6,119 strikeouts in the major leagues this year. Pitchers have been happy about 6,115 of them.

The other four lost ball games.

It happened again Thursday night in this Year of the Dropped Third Strike as Cincinnati catcher Johnny Edwards joined a club that is quickly losing its exclusiveness.

Before Edwards could take his red face and damaged pride back to the privacy of the Reds' dugout, the Houston Colts had rushed across five runs in the fifth inning and nailed down a 5-3 victory.

John Tsitouris, the Reds' starter, held a 2-0 lead going into the fifth and retired the first two men without any difficulty. Al Spangler then drew a walk and Nellie Fox followed with a single.

Bearing down, Tsitouris, appeared out of trouble when he fired a third strike by Mike White, but the ball flashed past Edwards and White raced for first, leading the bases.

Tsitouris, apparently unsettled, forced in the Colts' first run by walking Dave Roberts and then Bob Aspromonte applied the crusher by smacking a grand-slam homer.

That sent Tsitouris to the showers and Edwards into the Dropped Third Strike Club.

The club has strict rules—the dropped strike must have directly led to a defeat. The other members in good standing are Joe Torre of Milwaukee, Philadelphia's Gus Triandos and Mike Brumley of Washington.

The Philadelphia Phillies, meanwhile, moved back into first place in the National League on their day off when Milwaukee defeated San Francisco 6-5 and dropped the Giants into second place, seven percentage points behind.

Elsewhere, Don Drysdale posted his third shutout with a four-hitter in the Los Angeles' Dodgers' 5-0 victory over St. Louis and Larry Jackson won his eighth game as the Chicago Cubs whipped the New York Mets 6-3.

Aspromonte's homer was his third in three games. He has hit only one other. The Colts' third baseman also collected two singles and in the last three games has collected seven hits in 12 at-bats.

Claude Raymond got the victory in relief, extending his scoreless innings streak to 22 before the Reds scored an unearned run in the eighth on Frank Robinson's double and two errors by Fox.

The Braves-Giants game seemed to revolve around San Francisco outfielder Harvey Kuenn. Kuenn lost Eddie Mathews' drive in the sun in the eighth inning and it went for a three-run double. Then Kuenn homered in the bottom of the eighth.

He came up again in the ninth after the Giants had scored three runs and pulled within a run, but with a chance to win it he grounded into a doubleplay.

Felipe Alou's homer in the ninth against his former San Francisco teammates turned out to be the winning run as Warren Spahn brought his record to 5-4.

Drysdale, bringing his record to 8-5, was in serious trouble only in the fourth when the Cardinals loaded the bases with one out. But the Dodger right-hander got Charley James on a shallow fly and got Tim McCarver to ground out.

The Dodgers, meanwhile, tied their season high for hits by collecting 14 — 10 off loser Ray Washburn.

The Cubs pulled out front to stay against the Mets in the top of the first when Jim Stewart singled and Ron Santo homered. Santo later drove in the decisive run with a single in the seventh after Lou Brock and Billy Williams singled.

Jackson, 8-4, gave up nine hits but brought his lifetime record against the Mets to 8-0.

Pitcher McBride Snaps 10-Game Losing Streak In Relief Stint

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
After laboring in vain for nearly two months, Ken McBride has gone on relief and hit the jackpot.

McBride, a 28-year-old right-hander, halted his 10-game losing streak as the Los Angeles Angels nipped Cleveland 5-4 in 12 innings Thursday night.

The one-time ace of the Angels' pitching staff beat Washington 4-0 on opening day, April 13, then lost 10 consecutive games in 12 more starts. His latest start—and defeat—was last Sunday.

Then, against the Indians Wednesday night, Manager Bill Rigney brought McBride in from the bullpen for his first relief appearance since April 19, 1962. He didn't give up a hit in 12-3 innings.

He relieved again Thursday night, coming on this time in a 4-4 game with two on and none out in the ninth inning. He got Vic Davalillo on a grounder and induced Leon Wagner to hit into a double play.

McBride pitched two more innings, allowing one hit, before leaving for pinchhitter Willie Smith in the 12th. Smith's single started the winning rally.

The season for McBride has been one of utter frustration. He won 13 games and lost 12 for the Angels last year and had a 3.26 earned-run average.

Elsewhere in the league, Baltimore defeated Chicago 3-1. New York whipped Boston 8-4 and Minnesota downed Detroit on three hits as Earl Battey knocked across three runs. Shifflet pitched the ninth after Stigman walked leadoff batter Al Kaline. Bill Freehan and Don Demeter tagged Stigman for home runs in the fifth.

Battey slashed a run-scoring double in the third and smashed a two-run homer in the fourth.

Dean Chance started for the Angels and ran his scoreless inning string to 28 before Bob Chance singled home two runs for the Indians in the sixth. Dick Howser's two-run single tied it in the ninth. Joe Adcock and Felix Torres each drove in two runs for Los Angeles.

A two-run homer by Brooks Robinson in the eighth carried the Orioles past the White Sox. The blow off Hoyt Wilhelm broke a 1-1 tie. Luis Aparicio homered for Baltimore in the sixth. Tom McCraw got Chicago off to a 1-0 lead in the first with a homer off Milt Pappas.

Mickey Mantle slammed two home runs and Roger Maris one for the Yankees. Mantle connected with one on in the fifth, then slugged his 10th homer with the bases empty in the seventh. Maris' 10th came in the third. All of the blows were off starter Bill Monbouquette.

Ed Bressoud and Felix Mantilla homered against Jim Bouton, who won his fourth game in nine decisions. Bouton doubled and scored in the fifth and belted a two-run single in the eighth.

Dick Stigman and reliever Garland Shifflet stopped De-

Drop Extra-Inning Game To Angels

Slumping Indians Lose 4th In Row

CLEVELAND (AP) — The slumping Cleveland Indians are having their troubles these days and have now lost four in a row. The Tribe, now in fifth place, dropped a 5-4, 12-inning decision Thursday night to the Los Angeles Angels.

Hard-luck Ken McBride, the Angels' righthander, was the winner for the first time since opening day. He had been beaten 10 straight times in starting roles. This time he appeared in relief and was credited with his second decision.

McBride came on in the ninth, when Cleveland scored twice. The Indians tied the score 4-4, chasing starter Dean Chance of Wooster and reliever Bob Lee.

The Indians loaded the bases on a single by Max Alvis, a walk and a single by pinch-hitter Billy Moran, acquired just hours before from the Angels in a trade. Dick Houser then singled home two runs.

Rookie Bob Chance's two-run single in the sixth snapped Chance's scoreless inning string at 28.

Lou Clinton's sacrifice fly with the bases loaded in the 12th gave the Angels their victory.

Ted Abernathy, last of three Indian pitchers, was the loser. He's now 2-3. Other Tribe hurlers were starter Jack Kralick and Don Mahan.

The Indians open a four-game series tonight against Kansas City. Sam McDowell (2-0) will face the Athletics' Diego Segui (4-5).

A's Fire Lopat, Hire Mel McGaha

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mel McGaha takes over as manager of the Kansas City Athletics in the city where he first managed a major league club—Cleveland.

The A's fired Ed Lopat, former New York Yankee pitching star, Thursday and immediately replaced him with the 37-year-old McGaha, coach with the club for a year.

The announcement Thursday by General Manager Pat Friday kept McGaha from going to Witheville, Va., where he was to have reported in a few days as manager of the A's Rookie League farm club.

Lopat was stoic about being fired.

"It's standard procedure as far as baseball managers are concerned," he said. "It's easier to change the manager than to change five or 10 ball players."

McGaha, who flew here for a four-game series starting tonight, was asked about his plans for the Athletics, now in 10th place.

"Nothing drastic," he replied. "I intend to put the nine best men available on the field."

McGaha, whose rookie season as a major league manager was in Cleveland in 1962, said he Salem will hold its first Junior Tennis Tournament at the Centennial Park courts Wednesday through Saturday.

The tournament, co-sponsored by the Salem Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Pepsi-Cola Company, will be open to all Salem area boys and girls aged 10 through 18. There will be various divisions dependent upon the number of entries in each age bracket.

Anyone 18 years of age or younger wishing to enter the tournament should register at the Memorial Building daily between the hours of 10-12 a.m. or 1-3 p.m., or contact Jim Garrett.

There is no entry fee, but contestants are asked to supply a new can of tennis balls for their initial match. Deadline for entering will be 3 p.m. Tuesday, at which time pairings will be made.

Rudolph Trails By 1 Stroke

Rodgers' 67 Leads Buick Open Event

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — A bit of friendly advice from fellow-pro Jack Nicklaus prompted young Phil Rodgers to try a different approach to his golf game, which he used in taking the first-round lead in the $66,000 Buick Open Tournament Thursday.

Rodgers fired a 67 over the demanding 7,280-yard Warwick Hills course, taking a one-stroke lead over Masor Rudolph and a two-stroke edge over Thunderbird Open winner Tony Lema.

"A couple of months ago," Rodgers said, "Nicklaus and I were practicing and he told me I wasn't much of a golfer anymore."

"I asked if he had noticed anything particular that I was doing wrong and he suggested that we go over to the practice tee."

"We spent the whole day there, and I finally overcame the one thing he saw me doing wrong—I was dipping my shoulder and wasn't getting enough power in my drives," he said.

Since then, Rodgers continued, his drives have been getting longer.

He called Thursday's round the luckiest of his career. It saw him breeze through the 18 holes with five birdies and 13 pars.

He needed 26 putts in all and had 10 one-putt greens.

Rudolph had nine one-putt greens in his round, while Lema was four under par on the back nine in his 69.

Bunched at 70 were Don January, Bruce Burkenro, Ray Floyd, Bruce Devlin, Dow Finsterwald and Gary Player.

Defending champion Julius Boros was two more strokes away with a 72, while Sam Snead had a 75.

Hunt's Upsets Eagles 3-1; Sekely's Rolls To 4th Win

Hunt's Independent Union pulled off the first upset of the season in Class G action as it handed Eagles a 3-1 setback at Memorial Park Thursday.

Petrucchi's scored most of its runs early, then went on to trim UCT 12-8 at Centennial Park.

Sekely remained unbeaten in Class F as it knocked off Eljer 10-1, and Farmer's Bank rallied for six runs in the bottom of the seventh inning to nip Electric Furnace 16-15.

Stark's Colonial Attic took a 4-3 lead in the second inning, then surged ahead to a 9-6 victory over CIO 1538 in a Class H game at Buckeye Field.

Hunt's tallied once in the initial inning, then picked up two more runs in the second with key hits coming from Gary Ormes, who socked a double, and Ed McQuiston, who singled.

Craig Anderson of Hunt's (4-2) allowed only two hits, both of them singled by Eagle's (5-1) Harry Ewing. The winning hurler struck out 10 and walked one.

Petrucchi's iced its game with UCT with a six-run third inning. A hit batter, a walk, an error, two singles, a double by Mike Mehno and a triple by Larry Hrvatin brought in the runs.

Hrvatin also hit a triple in the first frame. Kevin led the winners (2-4) with three hits.

Floyd Crawford paced UCT (2-3) with a home run and two singles.

Mike Palmer and Dan Papic hit back-to-back home runs in the first inning to give Sekely (4-0) a 2-0 margin. The winners went on to pick up four more markers in the second, then coasted the rest of the way.

Rick Royle led Eljer (1-3) with a double.

Seven walks set the stage for Farmer's last-inning rally. Singles by Dave Greene and Don Albright contributed to the six-run attack.

Bill Karnofel and Albright, who belted a home run in the third, each had three hits for the winners (2-2).

Mike Owen clouted a pair of home runs, a triple and single to pace Electric Furnace (0-4) Jay Hunston also socked a homer. Skip Brightwell and John Shivers, who had three hits, belted triples.

Canfield Man Makes Ace At Flying B
Lloyd Lindquist of 60 Hilltop Road, Canfield, made the first hole-in-one of the season at Flying B Golf Course Wednesday.

He made his ace, the 10th ever carded at the course, on the 161 yard No. 6 hole, using an 8 iron. He finished playing the round with a two over par 38.

Playing with Lindquist were his wife, Jackie, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Mumaw of Salem, and Chuck Barnhardt of Lordstown.

Sowards Spent $277 In Election Bid

Low Sowards of Lisbon RD 3 spent $277 in an unsuccessful campaign for the Democratic nomination for county commissioner at the primaries May 5, he said in a sworn statement filed Thursday with the County Election Board in East Liverpool.

Sowards was the latest to report in a renewed rush to beat the deadline June 19 at 4 p.m. The election board said nine candidates for county posts still have not filed the reports, including three who won nominations.

It warned that state law forbids issuance of certificates of nomination to winners who do not file the reports. Without a certificate, the candidate cannot advance to the November general election. If an unsuccessful candidate fails to file, he can be barred from seeking public office again for five years.
